RE: COVID-19 Update 4.17.20

As we are in the midst of what is hoped to be the “peak of the infection curve” in our country, we are feeling more hopeful about the prospects for our country and our economy. While it has been only a little more than a month since a national emergency was declared, it feels like so much longer. Both our business and personal lives have been upended by this unprecedented crisis. As stated in a prior message, we are, literally, living through history (in a way none of us could have ever imagined).

Having said that, hopeful news came yesterday when the Federal Government announced a plan for reopening the economy. They outlined three phases of reopening that each state will use as a framework to safely and methodically lift restrictions as their circumstance allows. This is great news for all of us who long for at least a beginning to a return to “relative” normal.

At McNeely Plastics, we continue to operate fully and strictly adhere to the CDC guidelines and others to ensure the health and safety of our employees. We are so proud of the work they have done and their commitment to you. To date, we are blessed to have avoided any infections in our 3 plants. However, we do not take this for granted as we recognize the power of this virus and the risk that still exists. We will continue to follow our strict protocol as long as needed.

I want to say again that our employees have been amazing during this time. They have answered the call to maintain the high standards of safety and quality that you expect and deserve. It is a testament to their integrity and dedication.

We are grateful for your loyalty to McNeely Plastics. We stand with you in our hope that our country can recover sooner rather than later. So many lives depend on it.

Sincerely,

Greg McNeely
President
